

Legal Aspects of Code Administration:

This online course educates code officials with guidelines for administering the legal aspects of codes with regard to enforcement, prosecution and maintenance. In this course participants will discuss historical consequences of ignoring the regulation of building construction and materials, and learn how to interpret and applying local government, state and federal legislative laws, pertaining to the administration and enforcement of a building code. Participants will also be able to define and apply concepts which are legally important to the administration and enforcement of a building code and establish or document rules of procedure used before a board of building code appeals. By using the guidelines presented in the course, participants will learn how to effectively testify in a court of law.

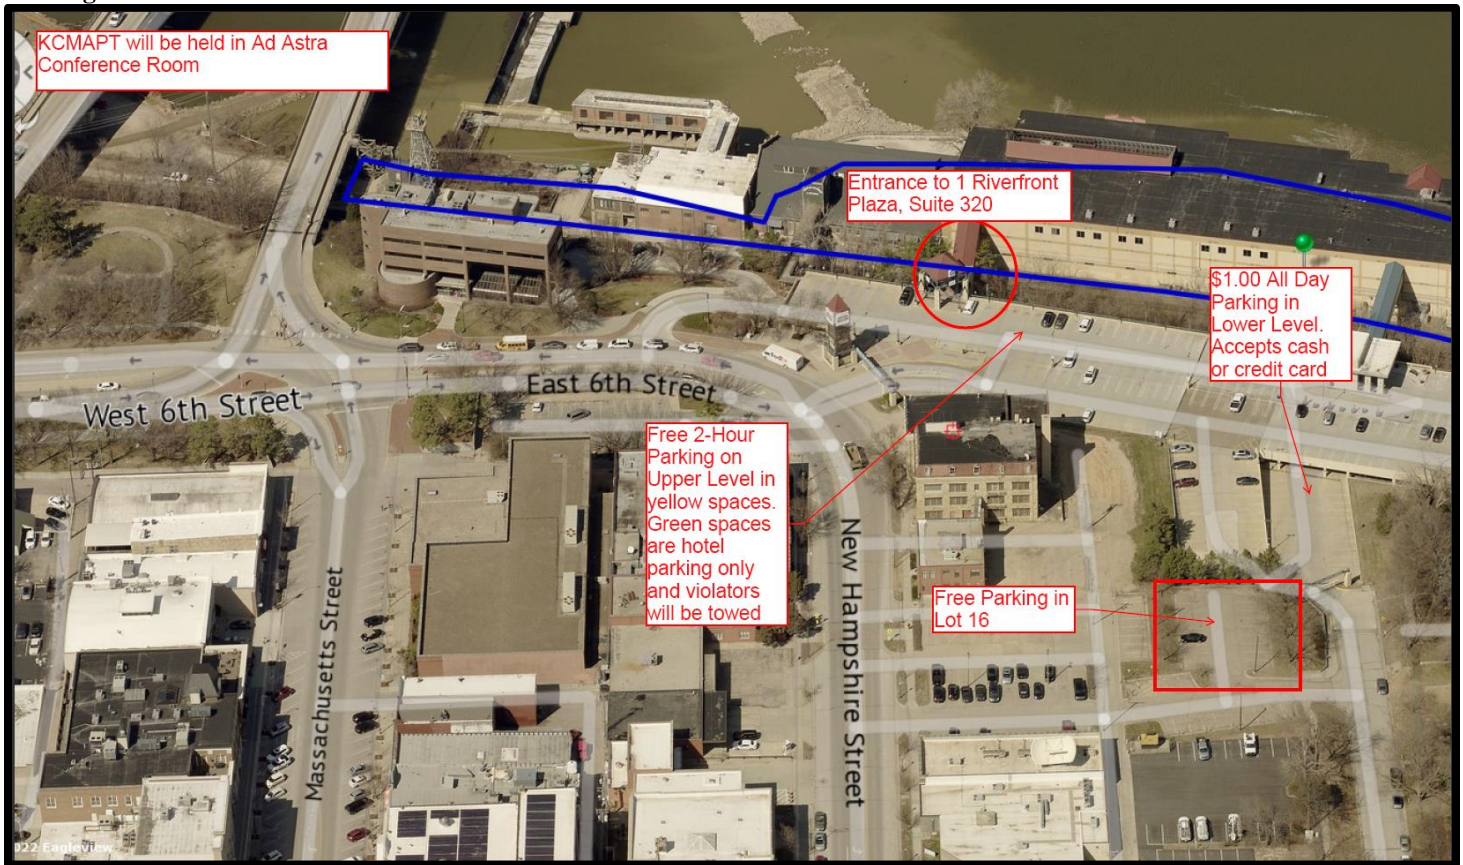

Instructor:

Tim Ryan has worked in the Building Safety Regulatory profession for almost 40 years. He has served at the national level serving on the Building Officials and Code Administrators International (BOCA) Board of Directors including President of the BOCA Board between 2001-2002. He served on the ICC Board of Directors from 2002 through 2009. He was first elected to the Board of Directors for the National Institute of Building Sciences (NIBS) in 2006, In 2012 Tim became one of six Presidential Appointees to the NIBS Board in 2012 due to an official appointment from President Obama. Currently, he is serving as the Chairman of the Board of Directors for the National Institute of Building Sciences.
